A lot of Memories...

Cette deuxième année d'EURO 4ème fut encore très riche en activités, exposés, ateliers, recherches et nombreuses découvertes du monde anglophone par les 12 élèves de ce groupe...

*J'ai été ravie de participer à leurs travaux et le résultat fut une belle exposition en fin d'année...
Merci à eux et bonne continuation en EURO!*

Mais assez parler, voici quelques clichés...

Saint Valentine's Day

The day of saint Valentine: February 14 is considered in many countries such as the feast of lovers and friendship, the couples exchanging the sweet words and gifts as evidence of love and red roses which are the emblem of the passion.

The priests of Lupercus sacrificed goats to the god and after drinking bin they ran through the streets of Rome half naked and touching passers by holding pieces of goat skin by hand. Juno, Roman goddess of women and marriage, and Pan, the god of nature.

Their feast day was the February 14 by decree of Pope Gelasius I, around 498.

It was Orhon of Grandson, during the second half of the fourteenth century poet and master at the English court, who introduced this custom in the Latin world, including the Court of Savoy: thirty percent of his poetry is dedicated this tradition. In China, since 1980, Valentine's Day is experiencing significant popularity, especially among young people, there is the traditional festival, Qi Qiao Jie.

The reconciliation between Valentine and courtly love is mentioned in any ancient history and is regarded by historians as a legend.

In Brazil, we are not talking about Valentine's Day but back Namarodos dia (Day of love) not celebrated on February 14 but on June 12.

In Colombia, Valentine's Day is celebrated on the third Saturday of September. Her name dia del amor y amistad (day of love and
